Try for Health

222 South Peoria St., Chicago, Ill., Oct. 7, 1902.

Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie in bed nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not arise without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it Bright's disease and others said it was consumption. I mated little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from St. Louis and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui. I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that it saved my life. I believe many women could save much suffering if they but knew of its value.

Singer's Pinker

Don't you want freedom from pain? Take Wine of Cardui and make one supreme effort to be well. You do not need to be a weak, helpless sufferer. You can have a woman's health and do a woman's work in life. Why not secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today?

WINE OF CARDUI

C. C. Rambo, superintendent of the Metropolitan Insurance Company, of Madisonville, has recently moved into a new and elegantly furnished office in the Kentucky Bank & Trust Company Building. This office consists of a private office, an agent's room and a reception room. The floors are covered with hard some druggists, and pictures adorn the walls. In the reception room are to be found easy chairs and a handsome quarter sawed oak reading table and the latest magazines and papers. The Metropolitan is up-to-date and its agents are among the best in the state.

Weak Hearts
are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, the stomach expands, swells, and pushes up against the heart. This crowds the heart and shortens the breath. Rapid heart beats and heart disease is the final result. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat, takes the strain off the heart, cures indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body.

Miss Ella Johnson, of Madisonville, who runs one of the best eating establishments in the city, has quite a number of young men boarding with her and they all seem to have excellent appetites. On Monday Miss Ella was boiling six large bams at one time and said they would probably last until Wednesday. This may seem a little fishy to our readers but we can vouch for its truthfulness, and they will not doubt believe it when they learn that Pat Mitchell, of the Cumberland Telephone Co., Gerald Johnson, attorney at law, Col. T. W. of the Hustler, Morton, of Parish Bro's grocery store, and several others who could mention, eat the three bams a day and exercise on the goose pole all night.

Good Spirits.
Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the liver—and all the fine spirits ever made in the Blue Grass State could not remedy a bad liver and the hundred-and-one ill effects it produces. You can't have good spirits and bad liver at the same time. Your liver must be in fine condition if you would feel buoyant, happy and hopeful, bright of eye, light of step, vigorous and successful in your pursuits. You can put your liver in fine condition by using Dr. Green's August Flower—the greatest of all medicines for the liver and stomach and a certain cure for dyspepsia and indigestion. It has been a favorite household remedy for over thirty-five years. August Flower will make your liver healthy and active and thus insure you a liberal supply of "good spirits." Trial size, 50c; regular bottles, 75c. At all druggists.

No False Claims.
The proprietors of Foley's Honey and Tar do not advertise this as a "cure for consumption." They do not claim it will cure this dread complaint in advanced cases, but do positively assert that it will cure in the earlier stages and never fails to bring comfort and relief in the worst cases. Foley's Honey and Tar is without doubt the greatest throat and lung remedy. Refuse substitutes.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT

EDITED BY MISS MINNIE BOURLAND.

The Bee's offer to give space for matters educational was heartily received by the teachers of the Institute in session at Madisonville last week. They are very appreciative and have many promised their co-operation.

A little later when the schools open we shall expect many live contributions from every district in the county.

It has been requested that the Institute proceedings be given first place this week and concluded with the next issue.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE HOPKINS COUNTY TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

Monday Morning.

The Teachers' Institute of Hopkins county began its annual session Monday morning, July 18, in the courthouse at Madisonville.

The County Superintendent, Miss Sallie R. Brown, acting as temporary chairman, called the meeting to order at 10 o'clock and the devotionals exercises conducted by Eld. S. F. Fowler, of the Christian Church, who also added a few words of hearty welcome.

Mr. H. F. S. Bailey was chosen chairman and Miss Minnie Bourland secretary.

The opening enrollment was 106, the largest remembered in the history of the Institute.

Then followed the usual timely remarks by the County Superintendent, in which she warmly encouraged the many faithful teachers but gently warned and threatened the very few "shirkers."

Prof. Chas. Evans, of Marion, who was introduced as instructor and was heartily welcomed by the teachers. He brought with him fresh inspiration from the great educational meeting at St. Louis (N. E. A.) and stronger than ever was his plea for energy, enthusiasm and earnest work in the schoolroom. He rejoices in the fact that Hopkins county is rapidly advancing educationally, paying a well deserved tribute to Prof. Chapman, who is largely responsible for the favorable outlook.

Dr. Peterman, of Nashville, author of the famous text book on Civics, was introduced and responded with a short speech, which thoroughly captivated his hearers.

Mr. Williams, of Owensboro, then spoke in behalf of the state paper, The Southern School Journal, and Mr. Chapman strongly recommended Seely's New School Management, after which came adjournment until the afternoon.

Monday Afternoon.

Order was called at 1:30 and the meeting opened with singing followed by roll call.

Mr. Chas. Franklin in his answer to the question, "What is a good school and what is a poor school," won the favor of the entire assembly. The subject was further decided by Mr. Chapman, Miss Brown and the instructor and a more practical though less beautiful definition developed.

Mr. J. M. Browning then discussed in his original and pleasing manner "The Scholarship and Common Sense of the Teacher." "The Teachers' Social Qualities, Character, Tact, Spirit and Environments" was a subject well handled by Mr. Hopgood and others. It was agreed that the teachers should be able to lead in the proper course the social life of the district and by so doing get in close sympathy with the patrons. That he should be the creator of thought and moulder of morals of the community.

Mr. H. F. S. Bailey emphasized the importance of "Attractive Home Furnishings and Grounds" and made this among other good suggestions. "Always Have Something in View and Constantly Strive for It and Lead Pupils to do Likewise."

Mr. Evans recommended these four essentials as conducive to success: 1. Happy atmosphere in school life; 2. Progress; 3. Morality or religiosity; 4. Work.

A lively "Round Table Talk," conducted by the secretary, on The District Library consumed the remainder of the time, and as the subject was considered too broad to be disposed of briefly it was voted the discussion be continued the following day. After announcements, adjournment at 4:30.

Tuesday Morning.

On Tuesday morning at 8:30 the Institute was called to order for its second day's work. After the singing, the devotionals exercises were led by Mr. Evans. He brought out new beauties in the much loved 18th chapter of Corinthians and held it as a remarkable literary masterpiece.

The minutes of Monday's proceedings were read and adopted and the roll called which showed few absences. The chairman then named as members of the Committee on Resolutions Mr. L. R. Ray, Miss Julia Earle and Mr. Chas. Franklin.

The instructor in a most excellent talk on "Educational Principles" advanced many new ideas and brought as he said theories from the living fountains of experience rather than the more abstract rules which are too often intangible.

After recess the "Star Spangled Banner" was sung which occasioned a plea for more music and patriotism in school.

Miss Lizzie Dean read a very thoughtful paper on "Spelling," which was very favorably received and some of its good points were discussed by several members. The instructor then aroused a further interest in the subject with a broad comprehensive talk developing the idea that good spelling is almost wholly dependent upon sight. Mr. Peterman then gave the right kind of exposure of the subject. He opposes putting the spelling book out of the schools and thinks it can not be done wisely until we have the right kind of teachers in the right kind of schools with the right kind of appliances under the right kind of supervision. He advocates above all the dictionary and reading habit.

After recess Mr. Cart introduced the subject of "Composition," emphasizing the importance of carefully prepared written work on every subject and the necessity of teaching the child to express himself naturally with pen or pencil. That language is best taught by association with good books and cultured people was also brought out, after which came adjournment.

Tuesday Afternoon.

The afternoon session began at 1:30 and in response to roll call many favorite quotations on "Pedagogy" were given.

Miss Ruth Plain gave a talk on the Teacher in the Schoolroom, in which she urged cleanliness, honesty, punctuality, and purity of deed and thought. Miss Ivah Alexander read a good short paper on "Illustrative Material," which started a lively discussion, contrasting the slightly trained and the well informed teacher. A strong plea for Normal training brought from Mr. Utley the thought, that, like Page, the great teacher of teachers, one may with sufficient zeal, energy and love for his work win much strength by fighting out his battles alone. Mr. Williams strongly advocated Normal training and believes that only when the demand is sufficient, Kentucky Normals will be established.

The Institute was then very delightfully entertained with a humorous reading by Dr. Peterman entitled "The Finest Hotel." This is a selection from his new book, "Petals of the Pennyrite," a sketch of life in mountainous Kentucky. We predict that it will bring additional fans and honor to this author.

After recess Miss Belle Story made some valuable suggestions on the Teacher's Library and Miss Goldie Walker told in a pleasing manner how a lesson may be well prepared. A motion was made and carried that Dr. Peterman conclude the Round Table Talk on the District Library. Among other things, he said: "Every teacher in the county may have a school library if he really wants one." On the subject of reading he thinks that the Kentucky teacher has three particular duties: Teach how to read, what to read and to form the reading habit. That the leading people. This resolution was then offered by Mr. Evans and voted by the teachers: "Be it resolved, That we, the teachers of Hopkins county, do hereby pledge ourselves to the establishment of a district school library this scholastic year and impose this obligation upon ourselves." This closed the second day's program.

At the Institute one of the teachers quoted these definitions from one of his pupils: "Dust is mud with the juice squeezed out. Sauce is the stuff that makes your pie taste so bad when it ain't got any on it."

A little girl in our school, for want of more wholesome reading, at home, memorized a long silly rhyme involving a popular rhyme. Many instances like this show the importance of providing good literature for the children at home and at school.

The following (poem) was voted by the subscribers of a western paper to be the best short poem of the nineteenth century:

Light
The night has a thousand eyes
And the day but one
Yet the light of the whole world dies
With the setting sun.
The mind has a thousand eyes
And the heart but one
Yet the light of a whole life dies
When love is done.

The Earlington School Library which was started last February already contains 291 volumes, 107 of which were contributed by pupils and patrons. The greater part of the remainder was purchased from a fund raised at a bazaar where articles made by the pupils were sold. It is proposed that the number be doubled next year and many books suitable for First and Second Grades included.

Does an Education Pay?

1. Does it pay an acorn to become an oak?

2. Does it pay to escape being a rich ignoramus?

3. Does it pay to fit one's self for a superior position?

4. Does it pay to get a glimpse of the joy of loving?

5. Does it pay the chrysalis to unfold into the butterfly?

6. Does it pay to learn to make life a glory instead of a grind?

7. Does it pay to learn to open a little wider the door of a narrow life?

8. Does it pay to add power to the lens of the microscope or telescope?

9. Does it pay to know how to take the dry, dreary drudgery out of life?

10. Does it pay to taste the exhilaration of feeling one's powers unfold?

11. Does it pay a rosebud to open its petals and fling out its beauty to the world?

12. Does it pay to push one's horizon farther out, in order to get a wider outlook, a clearer vision?

13. Does it pay to learn how to center thought with power, how to marshal one's mental force effectively?

14. Does it pay to acquire power to get out of high and noble pleasures that which wealth cannot purchase?

15. Does it pay to acquire a character-wealth, a soul property which no disaster or misfortune can wreck or ruin?

16. Does it pay to have expert advice and training, to have high ideals held up to one in the most critical years of life?

17. Does it pay to make life-long friendships with bright, ambitious, young people, many of whom will occupy high places later on?

18. Does it pay to become familiar with all the lessons that history and science can teach as to how to make life happy and successful?

19. Does it pay to become an enlightened citizen, able to see through the sophistries of political claptrap and vote intelligently on public matters?

20. Does it pay to change a bar of rough pig iron into halftone prints for watches, thus increasing its worth to more than fifty times the value of its weight in gold?

21. Does it pay to experience the joy of self-control, to open up whole continents of possibilities in one's nature which might otherwise remain unutilized?—Orlando Sweet Marden, in Success.

On the last day of the Institute a colored teacher in Georgia introduced the following, which was adopted by a rising vote:

WHY, Professor E. C. Branson has taught us egregiously:

Result of Concert, Recitation and Fanny Examinations.

A teacher was preparing to arrange a public exercise and wished to test the voices of children in order to make proper selections. She called some little girls into a room one at a time and told each one to sing a stanza of any song that she liked. One responded with the following:

Lead, kindly Light, amid th' encircling gloom, Lead me, meek, meek, meek; Tho' the night be dark, and I am far from home, Meow, meow.

The DOVE and The TURTLE.

WRITTEN FOR THE BEE.

In the spring, a livelier iris rests upon the burmished dove.
In the spring, a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love.
In the fall, the dove, less lively, rests upon the burnished hat.
And the young man still pursues it, notwithstanding this or that.

Of times bird and hat will nestle on a bright and sunny brow;
Then the young man gets a hustle and redoubles efforts now.
When the chase grows warm and warmer, to the young man's strength he boasted,
Comes a check upon his ardor, for he finds the place is "Posted!"

Then he begs him to the owner and with bashful mien observes,—
"I have treed a handsome covey of a dove on your preserves
And would humbly ask permission, Sir, to follow up the game."
"I'm accounted a good marksman and would gladly prove the same."

Then the stern and stalwart owner of the place, and of the bird, casts a look upon the youth and the following is heard:
"I've been worried a heap with the dove looked some what late."

"Francin' up and down the gwyden and a swingin' on the gate!"
Then the youth, somewhat abashed, replied, "I've hunted doves galore—"

"Doves galore—?" "Why doves galore—" "Then you needn't hunt no more;

"No sich doves 'round this byere place! Never heard of 'em before!"
"I have heard of 'em to be sure, but never heard of doves-galore!"

"I was meaning," said the youth, "I have hunted doves before,
But in all of my experience, I have never heretofore
Found a dove of such rare plumage as the one I have met."

"I've resolved, with your permission Sir, to make this dove my pet."

Then the stern and stalwart owner of the dove looked somewhat wiser; Picked a hay-seed from his waist-coat, gave a hitch unto his trousers;

Stuck his toe into the fence-crack, and with elbows on the rail, Looked upon the youth with sadness and his ears did thus assail:

"Would you take my last, lone dove? Place! Never heard of 'em before!"
"Rob the old place of its beauty? Leave me only English-sparrer?"

"I'd as soon you took the meadow, and the orchard, and the wood, As the charm, and life, and beauty of the place and neighborhood."

"No," said youth, "I would not rob you of your dove, if I could;
But, as meadow-larks have meadow, and as wood-chucks have their wood;

"As the nightingale should have its knight, the myrtle-vine its myrtle, I should like to have your turtle-dove adopt me as her turtle."

Old Mason's Home.

A committee on the Old Masons' Home at Shelbyville, Ky., will be called to meet Monday, August 1, at 8 o'clock p. m. in the Masonic Club rooms in this city says the Louisville Herald.

This committee is composed of the representatives of the various Masonic bodies of the city and has for its object the erection of a new building at Shelbyville to take the place of the old farm house now used as a home.

CARRIE CARRIES ON.

Raise Cain at Madisonville Over the Picture of a Fencing Girl.

The irrepressible Carrie Nation, who has been stopping at the Lucile Hotel since her stay in Madisonville, where she is engaged to lecture by the management of the Hopkins County Fair, became offended at the picture of a fencing girl, hanging in the hotel lobby, and demanded that it be removed. The clerk, in a gentlemanly manner, declined to remove it, whereupon Carrie became angry and said such pictures were despicable.

During the excitement following the discussion, she threatened to slap the clerk, but did not carry out her threat. She left the hotel, after paying her bill.

MOST IMPOSING PAGEANT.

Templar Parade to be Greatest Event on Pacific Coast.

The grand parade of the Knights Templar, to take place on Tuesday, September 6, is destined to be the most imposing pageant and the greatest display ever seen in the streets of San Francisco. It is confidently expected that fully 10,000 Sir Knights will be in the parade, making a line about four miles in length, and not less than 200,000 persons will line thoroughfares to witness the grandest and most brilliant spectacle ever seen on the Pacific Coast, one that may not occur again during the life of the present generation. In that line will be some of the most distinguished persons from all parts of the United States, Canada, and even from across the Atlantic, coming to the shores of the Pacific as the special representatives of the highest Masonic bodies of England and Wales, and the personal representatives of King Edward of England, who was Grand Master of the English branch of the throne before he ascended the British throne.

The delegation will be headed by the Earl of Enston, now occupying the highest position in the Great Priory of England and Wales. The chief officers of the Great Priory of Canada are expected to join their British cousins on the western pilgrimage, and the delegates will ride in the parade attired in their gorgeous uniforms studded with glittering gems of fabulous value. The Grand Master and his official family, representing the Grand Encampment of the United States, and the Grand Commander or his representative from every grand jurisdiction in the United States, will occupy positions of honor in the line. California Commandery and Golden Gate, the local commanderies will shine in their old and decidedly distinctive uniforms, which have attracted attention and elicited admiration at every conclave the Californians have attended.

BOOTLEGGERS ARRESTED.

United States Deputy Marshal Gilliland Secures Three Earlington Negroes.

MORE ARRESTS ARE TO FOLLOW.

United States Deputy Marshal Gilliland, of Owensboro, arrested Will Williams, Bob Willis and Harry Bradley, Friday, all colored men of this place, on the charge of bootlegging booze. The three prisoners were taken to Owensboro Friday night and placed in jail.

Deputy Gilliland says there is a great deal of this kind of work going on in this community and he is not through with his work.

He also arrested one man at Providence and one at Madisonville, both colored, on the same charge. He expects to return to this vicinity again in a short while and hopes to secure a much larger number next trip. Mr. Gilliland has in the revenue business for quite a number of years and has had some thrilling adventures raiding moonshine stills in various counties in this state.

LOOK OUT

For the Malaria-Dealing "House Mosquitoes" That Cause so Much of Our Sickness.

There is scarcely a cellar, in a region where mosquitoes are found at all, that does not have its winter population of impregnated females—the males die in the fall. To this series belong the common house or rain-barrel mosquito, and the malaria carriers or "dapple-wings." The house mosquito gets its name because of its tendency to get indoors, and because its favorite breeding places are found in or about our dwellings. Rain barrels or other receptacles containing water—cisterns, gutters, sewer basins, and even cess pools—answer equally well, and the water contained in a broken can may develop a group of three or four hundred. There is no place too small and no water too foul for this insect.

The house mosquito is the species that requires attention from every good citizen. It is of the wide range of its range. It means, for its "work," that every man shall keep his yard free from stagnant water; that, if a rain barrel or cistern is a necessity, he will cover the former and all the openings to the latter with wire mosquito-netting; and that, where cess-pools are in use, there shall be traps between them and the house, and a screen over any outer air.—Professor John B. Smith in the August Booklovers Magazine.

THURSDAY, JULY 28, 1904.

In this number THE BEE's new feature, the Educational Department is given its introduction to the friends of education and particularly to the teachers and the pupils of the public schools of Hopkins county. The initial announcement of the plan for this feature was made last week at the Hopkins County Teachers' Institute and through the columns of THE BEE. The prize contest then announced is given in more detail this week in an announcement on the first page of this issue. All pupils in all public schools of the county are eligible as contestants for the prizes offered by THE BEE to those who attain and retain first place on the honor roll for the best general average in their studies, and THE BEE will give a prize to the honor pupil in each public school of Hopkins county.

The plan of THE BEE's Educational Department was heartily endorsed by Prof. Evans, of Marion, who was the leader of the Institute, and by a number of the progressive teachers who made up that body, and we feel that we have made no mistake in undertaking this new feature, although it means no little cost to the publisher in the carrying out of the plan. Educational interests have been getting more to the front locally of late and we have faith that the best people of the county are in a mood to approve any encouragement or recognition given the cause of Education.

The Chicago union butchers have again ceased killing cattle and are again devoting their talents to attempting and sometimes successful butchery of non-union workmen and women. Chicago is the home of extreme unionism, the resort of anarchist and the reds of thugs, besides being a very pleasant and attractive city. And Chicago enjoys the distinction of being the one place in the United States where a big casualty insurance company will not write insurance against burglary. There is not much hope of betterment so long as such highwaymen as Donnelly dominate the labor unions of that city.

The men of Earlington and Madisonville are threatening to break off diplomatic relations with the society women of these towns, who have lately shown a remarkable exclusiveness toward the sterner sex. The young men of Madisonville have already organized a new club. If the whispered threats of the young married men are carried into effect the women will be condemned to "finch" for the rest of their natural lives.

There was a bit of rowdism Saturday night on the street in front of a traveling show that has the condemnation of all good citizens and deserves the penalty of the law.

THE BEE, with its usual enterprise, issues 1,000 extra copies this week to be distributed at the great Hopkins County Fair. In placing these papers in the hands of the public we ask they read them carefully, noting the different classification of news, such as Farmers, Mining, Educational, Railroad and other departments, and then subscribe for one of the brightest, cleanest and most interesting papers published in the State.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK.

A railway train was speeding across the State of Illinois one summer day about dark. The coach windows were up; a passenger looked out, and behold! a great white light appeared in the sky. He called the attention of the other passengers to it, and while they gazed on the unusual phenomenon a red light came from the white one, then a blue light from the red, and so on until all the colors of the rainbow were represented. Then these colors formed into letters and the letters into words, and the passengers gazed in awe and strained their eager eyes to read this mysterious message from the skies. Did it tell of some mighty event that would take place and change the map of the world? Did it herald to waiting millions that the end of time was near? No, it simply said: "It pays to advertise. I have tried it. John Wanamaker."

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Ten Years of Suffering.

"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge, of Madisonville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Dr. C. C. Owens were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine."

COMPANY G

Spends Sunday in Camp a Few Miles From the City.

The members of Company G had a taste of real soldier life Sunday, marching three miles to a point selected, near Southards schoolhouse, in heavy marching order. Each man carried in his haversack food for the day and in his canteen a supply of fresh water.

The day was spent in military instruction, which will prove useful to the boys while on their ten days' encampment at St. Louis.

Major Walter Powers, of Madisonville, accompanied the company and assisted in the maneuvers of the day. Capt. Price announced Monday night that Co. G will go in camp with Co. E, of Madisonville Sunday, Aug. 7, at a point equally convenient for both companies.

ASSAULT WINS FRIENDS

Mrs. Nation and the Temperance Cause Profit by Episode.

Elizabethtown, Ky., July 24.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, in spite of the fact that she was knocked out by a saloonkeeper the night previous with a chair, addressed the largest audience last night ever assembled in Elizabethtown to hear either a lecture or a theatrical troupe.

Contrary to expectations, the lecturer did not revile the saloonkeeper who struck her, but used the incident as a weapon against the whiskey traffic. In fact she was heard praying for her assailant after her wounds were dressed, and the entertainers no enmity against the assailant.

The public for years has not been so stirred up against the whisky traffic as has resulted from her visit to this city. Many voters who have heretofore voted for the saloons, now declare that they will vote against them hereafter.

Buried Under Wheat.

Two boys and two mules were buried under several hundred bushels of wheat at the home of Mrs. Ann Murphy near Onton, Saturday. FARMERS FIRM

In Breckenridge County—They Are Holding Wheat for $1.

The teachings of the American Society of Equity are having a beneficial effect on the farmers in this section of the State as is evidenced by the price of wheat, says the Owensboro Messenger. In Breckenridge county, where the society is strong, 50,000 to 100,000 bushels is being held by the farmers at $1 per bushel. The purchaser ten days ago offered the farmers 82½ cents, which was refused. They now offer 90 cents, but no sales are made at that figure.

William W. Murphey, a locomotive engineer on the Burlington's fast express between Hannibal and St. Joseph, has been making observations on the speed of various birds and insects. Many birds, he says, make a practice of flying beside or in front of his engine, and when the weather is clear and there is no wind he opens the throttle and races with them. He finds that a hawk and a crow can make 25 miles an hour.

Died. Mrs. Lelia Lovelace, wife of Mr. Holland Lovelace, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Miles Crowder, at Horse Branch, Ky., July 17. Mrs. Lovelace, up to a few months ago, resided with her husband at this place, but being in poor health they left for Morganfield, thinking the change would better her condition, but she gradually got worse, and finding that her case was hopeless she was removed to the home of her sister, where she passed to her final rest. She was 24 years old and leaves a husband, an aged mother and several sisters and brothers to mourn the untimely death of their loved one. Her remains were interred in the family burying grounds at Horse Branch.

Deep Breathing. At a lecture recently given in the New Century Building, Boston, by Prof. Cleave, before the Woman's Health Club, he declared that consumption may be cured simply by deep breathing, with plenty of fresh air and sunshine.

He said he knew a woman who had been given up as incurable by the doctors, and one of her lungs being almost gone, who, by taking deep breaths every morning, under the required conditions, was absolutely a well woman at the end of three months, and could walk seven miles easily.

Breathing is the first element of life, and the more oxygen you can store up in your system the better the condition. Use your brain power, use your muscular power, and assist nature to fill the cells with oxygen. We use only about one-quarter of the cells in our lungs, or at the most one-third; the rest become clogged, dyspepsia and indigestion result, and the body is in a state of decay.

Man in his primitive state was the healthiest of animals, but with civilization he lost the incentive to live the fresh, pure air, and with his desire for rest came inaction, the muscles became stiff and clogged with fatty accumulations for the want of exercise.

Radium is the storage of oxygen in metals; it is nothing else but concentrated sunshine. Deep breathing will stimulate the brain, fill the lungs with oxygen, and exercise will create the heat which will in turn burn the rubbish, the accumulated fatty tissues that hamper the body for its movements.

Professor Cleave then illustrated the manner in which to take deep breaths, by taking a deep breath, getting out of bed, with the window thrown wide open, and only loose garments worn.

"After taking these whiffs of nature," he continued, "you will have a store of strength on which you can draw, and make life a luxury. You will find these deep breathing exercises will bring you happiness as well as health."—Christian Observer.

Syria and Palestine, on account of the defective means employed for utilizing the subterranean water supply, are justly called semi-arid regions. The introduction of boring and pumping machinery is certain to prove a great boon. No assertion has been made as yet, but experiments are progressing with a hope of locating basins that may be tapped. All over the country large tracts of lands are lying idle for lack of water.

What the Strike is Doing.

The strike of the packers has resulted in the financial ruin of Casper Distler, a saloon keeper at East St. Louis. Distler filed a petition in bankruptcy in the office of the clerk of the United States district court at Springfield Wednesday, and gave as his reason for doing so that owing to the strike of the packers in East St. Louis his saloon business had fallen off. He scheduled his liabilities as $3,440.95 and his assets as $949.25.

One of the points contended for by the strikers is higher wages. If these men had been receiving higher wages all along, business men like Distler, who provide them with the necessities of life, would not have had to go into bankruptcy, and the poor wives and children would get more beefsteak, and the dutiful and devoted husbands who turn in all their earnings to support the family, could get more beer and raise more hell.—Evanville Economist.

"Do It Today."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off till to-morrow what you can put off till to-day," is the best advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or dermating cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it to-day, and let that remedy be Dr. Boylston's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough of cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will cure a cure—a safe cure—done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

Someone has drawn attention to the fact that music exercises an influence on the growth of the hair in a most curious manner. Constant playing for some years on musical instruments, the trombone in particular, will cause baldness; while the playing of the piano, violin and violoncello rather increases than otherwise the growth of the hair. Flute and clarinet players are not supposed to be influenced either way.

Safeguard the Children.

Notwithstanding all that is done by boards of health and charitably inclined persons, the death rate among small children is very high during the hot weather of the summer months in the large cities. It is not probably one case of bowel complaint in a hundred, however, that could not be cured by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

The cotton manufacturers decided to advance the price of their goods on and after April 1, 1904. For some time past the large Russian wholesale houses have been refraining from purchasing large quantities of any textile goods. IS DISCUSSED BY BRITISH CABINET

The Sinking of the British Steamer Knight Commander by Russian Cruisers.

OFFICIAL DETAILS ARE AWAITED BEFORE PROCEEDING WITH CASE.

The British Contend That It Is One Thing to Sinker a Ship Having Contraband on Board, and Another to Sink Her Without Proper Inquiry.

London, July 27.—The sinking of the British steamer Knight Commander by Russian cruisers of Japan was fully discussed at a meeting of the cabinet, held at the foreign office. Before the meeting, Count Benckendorff, the Russian ambassador, was closeted with Foreign Secretary Lansdowne and discussed in detail the operations of the Russian cruisers in connection with neutral shipping, but as the Russian embassy had not been officially informed by the Russian government of the destruction of the Knight Commander, the ambassador was unable to make any statement to the foreign secretary.

The Knight Commander incident is one which is attracting close official and public interest, for the reason that in the British official view it is one thing to sink a ship having contraband on board and another to sink her without proper legal inquiry to establish that she is a good ship. The British government is desirous of obtaining all the facts before approaching Russia on the subject. The British authorities in Japan are obtaining testimony which will enable the British government to make up its case. It is said in a reliable quarter that Great Britain will make earnest representations to Russia with the view to securing reparation and to prevent interference with neutral commerce, such as it has been subjected to recently.

CLAIMED BY RUSSIA.

The Right to Sink Contraband Ships Under Certain Circumstances.

St. Petersburg, July 27.—While entirely without advice regarding the circumstances surrounding the sinking of the British steamer Knight Commander, the right is claimed by Russia to sink any vessel carrying contraband when her papers show that she is clearly contraband, and when circumstances render it impossible or too dangerous to attempt to get her to a home port; and in such cases liability for damages to the value of the ship is not admitted.

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS

It is reported that the Louisville and Nashville railroad company is preparing for an independent entrance into Atlanta over the old Georgia Central right of way. Options on property for this purpose are said to have been secured recently.

Fireman J. C. Coker has recovered from injuries received on account of jumping off engine on Shawneetown Accommodation on the 7th of this month near Carmi, Ill., when he saw a hand car on the track a short distance ahead of the train.

Leslie's Weekly certainly hits the nail on the head when it says, in an issue of July 21st, that "Few, if any, departments of human activity have so many real prizes to offer to capable, energetic, and resourceful men as the railroad business." It continues with an illustration: "Instances of men who have climbed up from the humblest to the highest places in the railroad service are frequently recorded. One of the latest is that of Mr. H. J. Horn, recently chosen general manager of the Northern Pacific Railroad. He entered the service of that corporation as a draughtsman fifteen years ago, receiving sixty dollars a month pay. His ability was soon recognized and rapid promotion followed."

Fireman E. V. Partington is taking in the World's Fair this week and next.

Writes Ethel Cranston, of Washington, D. C., in the Epworth Herald of a trip "Across Sand and Cactus into Mexico:" "I am inclined to speak highly of the Mexican Central Railroad for several reasons. One, because of the provision of the comfortable Pullman sleeper, a luxury we had not met with elsewhere in our journeyings, outside of Southern Canada and the States." Again, because of the excellent service and acceptable budget aboard the same. And then, also, because of the commendable judgment displayed in fixing a twenty-five-mile-per-hour schedule. No permanent disarrangement of the timetable was suffered on account of a two-hours' delay in leaving El Paso, for the time was soon made up. And as for the quarter of an hour spent in hunting the engineer, who had gone to sleep in some unknown corner of a stopping-place and failed to turn up at the appointed minute—why, no one can ever tell what will not turn up to delay a train in Mexico, and so, I say, the provision of a moderate schedule is a wise one."

MINING NOTES.

One of the most remarkable river seasons for a quarter of a century has been that of the winter, and thus far the summer, of the present year, says the Paducah Sun. Never before have any of the coal companies had such stages of water for handling large amounts of coal. Today all of the southern markets are better stocked with coal from Pennsylvania and other northern fields than send coal down the Mississippi, than since the days of the old Mississippi Valley Transportation company. It is estimated that upward of 5,000,000 bushels of coal have passed Paducah since the first shipment in the spring. Almost as much more has been dropped above at the different points supplied by the big combine, to say nothing of that which the small independent companies have handled.

The big Pittsburg coal combine is preparing to enter the Paducah, Ky., market and serve the river and market trade. The company will at present have only a river agency. It has under lease for several years over at the islands several thousand feet off shore for its barges, and will use that for a tug and the barges of coal to be used in the local river trade furnishing coal to steamboats. The combine owns mines near Sturgis, Ky., and will bring Kentucky coal from there to the city besides handling Pittsburg coal.

The wife and children of Mr. E. R. Burnett, timberman at Arnold mine, who have been visit relatives at Cadiz, Ky., for several weeks, returned home last Thursday night.

Middlesboro, Ky., July 22.—The Black Mountain Coal, Land and Improvement company has bought fifteen thousand acres of coal lands lying in Harlan county, Ky., and Lee county, Va. They will immediately build ten miles of railroad from the Louisville & Nashville at Pennington Gap and later on will continue to Harlan Court-house.

Mr. John Tonkin, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., is exploiting a coal property near that of the Wheatcroft Mining Company at Wheatcroft, Ky. He will likely have a complete equipment for mining, electricity being used wherever possible.—Marion Record.

Work on the old Curlew coal property, near DeKoven, Union county, Ky., is being pushed and a two track slope is being driven near the old workings. Considerable trouble has been experienced from black damp, but this is naturally to be expected from the long time the property has been idle.

It is reported that the Wheatcroft Mining Company, whose four open mines are located at Mexico, near Marion, Ky., have contracted with a company at Marion to take their output.

Messrs. Brasher Jackson and Fernando Nelson were in Owensboro Saturday on business.

Mr. Henry Harris was in Madisonville Tuesday attending the fair.

Mr. R. H. Barclay, of the Kentucky State Geological Survey, is making a study of mining, draining and handling methods now in vogue at typical mines in the various coal districts of the State, to lay foundation for a report to be made hereafter on the best methods of opening and mining certain ores in the East.

The largest trade in coal is under land in this section consumed in many years, was closed last week, when the Gordon Land Co., of Madisonville, purchased the coal rights in 2800 acres of ground lying adjacent to Rose Creek, near Manito, says the Hustler. The price paid was about $5 per acre and the land company made the deal acting for the Reinecke Coal Co. The deeds to the property were filed with the county court clerk Monday afternoon. In all there were twenty-four for mineral rights and one from A. S. Tapp transferring all rights to thirty acres of ground lying adjacent the railroad and but a short distance from the town of Manito. It is understood that a new shaft will be sunk on the thirty acres of ground secured from Mr. Tapp.

Y. M. C. A. Growth in Kentucky.

A resume of the growth and development of the Young Men's Christian Association work in Kentucky for the past three years, under the supervision of the State Executive Committee, has been sent to the International Committee, and will appear in the Year Book of 1904. It contains the following information:

During the past three years the growth of the various departments of work in the state—city, railroad, student and county—has been notable, and has been especially characterized by a broader vision of the field to be occupied by each Association, and by a more systematic and aggressive occupancy of the fields in which work is being done. This period witnessed the Jubilee of the Association work in Kentucky, commemorating the semi-centennial of the organization of the first Associating in the State, and of the quarter centennial of the organization of the State. 651 delegates attended the Jubilee Convention at Lexington, the largest Association Convention (State or International) ever held in the South.

There are now 74 Associations in the State. Ten of these are city, seven railroad, twenty-seven student, and thirty town. Fifty-one secretaries are employed. Two assistants have been added to the secretary force of the State Committee, which is now as follows: State Secretary, Secretary City and Railroad Department, Secretary Religious and Educational Work Department, Secretary Student Department and two Secretaries of the County Work Department. With this report, the State Secretary, Mr. Henry E. Rosevear, completes fifteen years of service in the State.

WRIT OF ERROR GRANTED IN JIM HOWARD CASE
Case Will Now go to the Supreme Court for Hearing.

Frankfort, Ky., July 23.—Attorneys James Andrew Scott and W. M. Smith, for James Howard, under life sentence for the murder of Wm. Goebel, this morning applied for a writ of error to the Supreme Court in the Howard case before Chief Justice Burnam.

Attorneys Hays and Judge B. G. Williams for the Commonwealth were present during the argument and presentation of the writ and entered a formal objection to each of the grounds alleged. One of the chief grounds relied on was the code provision that the defendant had a right to be present at each step taken in the case.

The writ is applied for on other constitutional grounds, which have been brought out in the previous trials. Chief Justice Burnam granted the writ.

ANDREW JACKSON'S BOLD AND SUCCESSFUL CAREER

St. Charles, Ky., July 26, 1904.
PAUL MOORE, JR.,
EDITOR OF THE BEE,
Earlington, Ky.

DEAR SIR:—Andrew Jackson is the idol of Democrats and is claimed to be an ideal representative of that party. He was a man of immense will power, and on account of that quality, a most valuable man to his country at the critical time in which he lived, and accepted the position of General of Tennessee troops during the war of 1812 with England. He was honest, determined and fearless, and allowed nothing to interfere with his success. A man less daring might have failed where he succeeded. In "General Jackson's Life," commenced by John Reid and completed by John Henry Eaton, it is stated in Chapter 4 that he wrote a letter to Gov. Blount, at the time governor of Tennessee, in answer to a letter from the governor advising Jackson to discharge some of his soldiers—in which he used the following language: "That had the governor, instead of merely expressing a wish, given an order that he should discharge some of his army, that he could not be incalculable in obeying it." Genl. Jackson then proceeded to point out and instruct the governor in the duties and responsibilities of his office. The general winds up his letter by saying: "What! retrograde under such circumstances! I will perish first. No, I will do my duty. No, I will hold the posta I have established until ordered to abandon them by the commanding general, or die in the struggle." In Chapter 8 it is stated that Jackson became impatient at the slow deliberations of the legislature of Louisiana, and declared New Orleans under martial law. He said: "Constitutional forms should be suspended for the preservation of constitutional right." He had Judge A. Hall, judge for the United States court for the district, arrested and ordered him to leave the city for objecting to his course. When peace was restored Judge Hall announced Genl. Jackson before him and fined him a thousand dollars for contempt of court, which the general eventually paid. Genl. Jackson, when informed that the legislature of Louisiana were deliberating about the propriety of surrender, ordered Gov. Claiborne, if they persisted in their course, to have the members arrested and held for further orders.

Genl. Jackson, a warrior and a patriot of the highest class, never hesitated to carry out his views in the most arbitrary manner. If results justify means, he was fully justified, and if a tyrant, he, like all tyrants, was freedom's best and bravest friend.

I was much struck with Jackson's contempt for law and anything that obstructed his will, also with his self-reliance and patriotism, and am led to greedily read the bold and successful course. I thought while President Roosevelt was being attacked as a dangerous man by the Democrats what must they think of Genl. Jackson, who did things President Roosevelt would not dream of doing?
